OPPRESSED AFGHANISTAN.

How John Bull Tramples upon the Weak.

Now that the Afghan war is assuming the respectable proportions of a campaign, explanation of the hostilities is interesting. A correspondent calling himself one of Shere Ali's subjects writes to the London Times, and through the columns of that influential journal thus throws some light on the subject: In 1839 the English invaded Afghanistan without the least provocation, or, I may say, any adequate cause whatever. When they failed to force upon the natives the ruler whom they hate, they pour in their overwhelming forces, burn their cities to ashes, massacre the inoffensive inhabitants by thousands, and do all possible mischief they can think of. Shortly after this they most generously come forward, shake hands with the Amer, and in an off-hand manner make it all up. Scarcely have the Afghans forgotten their disasters when the Amer is asked to allow a British resident to remain at his court. He candidly tells them the feeling of his people toward the English, and respectfully declines to give any guarantee for the resident's safety. This reasonable excuse inflames the English; they desert him and declare they will have nothing to do with the Amer or his country any more. When they see the Russian Envoy going to Cabul, they burn with jealousy, and avow that they must send their envoy too, at any cost or sacrifice. Now, in the name of heaven, it is difficult to see what induces them to depart from their non-interference policy. They write letters in most imperious tones, and send a hasty mission. Without awaiting the Amer's reply, the mission is ordered to push on to Cabul. The Amer's command gives them no instruction respecting the mission from the Amer, and consequently his duty prevents him from allowing the mission to proceed any farther. Thereupon the English feel very indignant, and cry out, "War, war, even to the knife!" They forget that pride goes before a fall.

The Amer's Backs Down.

LAHORE, Dec. 7th.—The reply of the Amer of Afghanistan to the Viceroy of India's ultimatum has been received by the Indian government. It is dated the 19th of November, but, not having reached Dacca before the 30th of that month, it is believed in official quarters to have been re-written after the news of the capture of Ali Musjid. The Amer criticizes the professed friendly intentions of the British government, and alludes to its action in the past and especially its intervention in behalf of Yakub Khan, as contradictory of such intentions. The Amer explains that his refusal to receive Sir Neville Chamberlain's mission was not intended to be hostile, but arose from fear of the loss of his independence, an apprehension which was confirmed by the allusion in the ultimatum to protection being given to Khyberes who had been engaged in escorting the mission. The Amer declares that there is no enmity existing between Afghanistan and the British government; that he desires to resume former friendly relations, and finally that he will not resist the visit of a small temporary British mission to Cabul.

Slow Justice in Silver.

Says the Silver City Times of Wednesday: Justice Tait having neglected to send his resignation to the board of county commissioners, the Silver City precinct will probably be without a justice until Dan Harkins, the justice of the peace elect, shall assume the discharge of the duties of his office. This will be on the first of January. In the meantime any unfortunate who may be "juggled" will be compelled to wait for his trial until Justice Tait comes from Dayton. This will involve a delay which will be anything but pleasant to the individual in duress.

Fire in Sacramento Orphan Asylum.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—The Protestant Orphan Asylum, on L street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, caught fire this evening by the explosion of a coal-oil lamp, and the interior was nearly ruined. The children were moved safely to a neighboring school-house. The building was partially insured.

Grass Valley Union: "The Nevada county members of the constitutional convention, who were spending their Thanksgiving vacation at home, have all returned to their duties." Labor is the word, brother, not "duties." Intelligence is necessary to a conception of duty; instinct is sufficient for the ordinary purposes of labor. A man of honesty or ambition discharges his duties; an ass can labor.

A False Report Denied.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A telegram from the captain of the British troop-ship Orontes, dated Malta, says there is no truth in the report cabled from Halifax that a boat's crew from that ship had been lost in attempting to rescue a man who had fallen overboard.

Contending Pious.

The Tribune has made the discovery that the Indian adopts the vices of the white races, and gives the go-by to their virtues. The Pious must have come in contact with the Tribune local.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. SUNDERLAND.
The English correspondent of an American journal says that one principal reason why the Duke of Edinburgh is so much less known and so much less popular than his eldest brother is because he is exceedingly shy and therefore very retiring. So shy, indeed, is he, that when he has to make a speech in public it is a painful effort to him. Probably this also explains why he never pays his debts. The effort would be too painful to his sensitive nature.

The Sacramento correspondent of the Post has made a wonderful discovery—by studying some delegates—that filthy habits are no more an indication of mental ability than long hair and slouch hats are evidences of artistic distinction. The correspondent should be careful in stating his heterodox opinions. His belief, if generally accepted and published, might jeopardize the positions of some of our most talented journalists.

A Trifling Error.

By some accident the headings of the Marysville (Ky.) Banner of Freedom got transposed the other day, and the next day the nuptials of old Mr. Pennybacker, who had married a young lady of sixteen, appeared under the caption of "Cold-Blooded and Terrific Deed!" while a report of the murder of a Mr. Botts was announced as "A Most Delightful Affair." Ever since that issue Mr. P. has been sitting on the carriage-step in front of the Banner office with a shot-gun, waiting for the editor to come out, while Botts' brother-in-law is patrolling the back alley, waiting to head off that efficient journalist with a club.

A New Cable Project.

MADRID, December 7.—The ministers are considering a project for having a cable between Manila and Hong-kong.

The scarcity of diamonds, gold and silver, and the difficulty of securing them, is a sure indication of their value. Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom, or put out a prairie fire with a tear. For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your druggists, OSMURN & SHOEMAKER, for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the fac-simile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75-cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents. auted

NEW DEPARTURE.—On and after December 1st, 1878, the store of Manning & Duck will be conducted on a cash basis. Every customer will be compelled to pay for his own goods. No extra profits for bad debts. We propose to sell goods cheaper than they have ever been sold in this market. We are compelled to this important step by several weighty reasons: First, we wish to encourage prompt payment. Second, the prompt payment should not be compelled to pay an extra profit for the slow customer or the man that never pays. Third and most important reason, we are not able to carry so large an amount of capital on our books and keep up our stock of goods. Good gift edge customers will be allowed a credit of thirty days. If by agreement longer time is given, interest of 1% per cent a month will be charged. A. H. MANNING.
N. B. The old accounts of Manning & Duck must be settled by cash or note by the 1st of January or they will be placed in the hands of a collector for collection. A. H. MANNING.

RENO AND SURPRISE VALLEY.—Caldwell & Kern's stages will leave Reno hereafter on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 8 o'clock A. M., and reach Bidwell, Surprise Valley, at 6 o'clock on the following days. Returning, will leave Willow Ranch at 7 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving in Reno at 9 P. M. on the following days. Fare, $20 each way. Freight on baggage over 50 pounds, 5 cents per pound. Office at Hammond & Wilson's stable, opposite Railroad depot. JOHN WILSON, Agent. oct13-1f

NOTICE.—Having established a pur chasing agency, Mr. L. B. Brien will give his personal attention to orders of any kind, such as boots and shoes, furniture, crockery, carpets, millinery goods, groceries, etc. Being in constant business relations with the thorough acquaintance with all the leading houses, ladies, in ordering through Mr. Brien, will receive the full benefit of his experience and find it more advantageous than doing their own shopping. SIMMOND'S

NABOB WHISKEY.

Consumers are referred to the following extract from the report of an eminent Public Analyst: This is a pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in fragrance, which impart a delicate aroma, at the same time greatly increasing its value as a digestive stimulant. The solid residue contains a large amount of tannin, derived from storing in oak casks, which imparts to fine old whiskey one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of the residue proves the whiskey to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKEY, and will not only supply a public want, but that whiskeys are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in these numerous cases where pure whiskeys are the most useful of all medicines. A NEW FEATURE.

To-day the Gazette publishes the afternoon sales of the San Francisco stock board, and will continue to do so hereafter. There is, we believe, but one other evening paper on the coast which does this. All classes in the community are anxious to read the stock quotations and to supply this want the Gazette, determined to maintain its character for enterprise, goes to the expense of obtaining by telegraph, and publishing the afternoon list. The new feature is one the value of which everybody will appreciate.

KEARNEY THE COOLIE'S FRIEND.

This from the Stock Exchange is shrewd and possibly true:

Kearney says he will oppose the new constitution. It is very likely then to be adopted. Perhaps Kearney knows this, as he knew he was helping to defeat Butler when he was pretending to advocate his election. Who knows that Kearney is not purposely bringing the anti-Chinese agitation into contempt? If he is capable of the one deceit he is capable of the other.

Kearney's treachery toward Butler and his shameless card to the Boston Herald, over his own name, in which he boasted of having told the workmen of Massachusetts over and over again that Butler would be elected by 40,000 majority when he believed all the time that he would be defeated, shows Dennis to be a deceitful as well as a stupid rascal. His amusingly naive brag that "no man knew his private opinions" on any subject indicates the clearness of the drayman's ideas on the duty of truth-telling. We do not doubt for a moment that money could buy Kearney to advocate, denounce or let alone anything. It would be no surprise to learn that he is in the pay of the Chinese companies. Why in his chaste criticisms of millionaires has he never had anything to say about the bonanza firm?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Unless the interests of the Pacific coast receive a little more consideration at Washington and the rest of the East than if we out here were a lot of ignorant backwoodsmen, a sectional feeling will grow up that will cause trouble one of these stormy days. A people possessing the intelligence, the agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and commercial wealth of the Pacific coast don't want to be governed with the same careless indifference shown toward Alaska, for example. The Chinese question concerns us deeply and the East, at present, not at all. Therefore our opinions and wishes about the matter are the only ones deserving governmental consideration—which is not given. One New York paper which knows nothing practically of the Mongolian problem, and therefore speaks like a school boy declaiming on universal liberty, has more weight at Washington than the whole press of this coast.

The free untrammelled soul of the Eastern Nevada, is not bound in the cold shackles of conventionality. We are surprised that the Tybo Sun, a newspaper of good good sense usually, should take exception to any display of this happy, unfettered flow of spirits. But it does, thus:

"There are a number of men in Tybo who are either strangers to good manners, or anxious to earn the title of hoodlums. During every performance of the Standard Dramatic Constellation the ears of decent people were assailed by a series of yells and idiotic cries that were enough to convince one that a legion of foul fiends had broken loose. If men have no respect for themselves, we ask them in the name of manhood to at least respect the presence of ladies. We hope to see more orderly behavior in public places in the future."

The Lyon County Times man must be contemplating a plunge into the slow-flowing canal of matrimony. The Times is filled with beautiful articles on the "art of kissing," "how to make home happy" and the like. A certain savageness toward brother journalists is also shown, as might be expected under the sweet circumstances. The Gazette's congratulations are extended.

It is predicted that the present session of congress will be a dull one, and the correspondents consider it certain that the Democrats of the house will do everything in their power to keep clear of debate on exciting political topics. It looks very much that way considering that Wood fired a whole broadside into the administration on the first day of the session.—Stock Exchange.

A broadside, was it? Really, it didn't sound like that to us. It struck us as being more in the nature of the angry "You're another" of a man who can't answer when told some disagreeable truth.

Farewell to all our greatness! James E. Anderson, of Louisiana, who has but to look down the well and Truth ducks under, has become the local editor of the Eureka Sentinel. That paper now has a team that ought to make it famous throughout the country. Cassidy and Anderson! Moses in Egypt!

Edith Francis, the sweet singer of the Gold Hill News, has a baby just one year old and she inquires of that infant through the columns of our Slippery Gulch contemporary:

"What knows the baby of burning tears,
Of sin and sorrow, remorse and pain?"

It's a mere matter of taste, of course, but had we been Edith we should have kept this out of print.

The Idaho papers declare that the men of that territory want "a lot of respectable, sensible girls" to emigrate from the East and marry them. Thus is another inducement offered respectable, sensible girls to stay away from Idaho.

"Never kiss a young girl if she don't want you to."—Carson Tribune.

It's all very well for the Deacon at his age to say that, but had he himself followed this stringent rule he would have been an unknissed virgin to this day.

Alabama has a Democratic paper—the Montgomery Advance—which is edited by a negro. Montgomery is also proud of a five-legged calf.

MARRIED.

BENNETT-STEPHENS-In Reno, December 8th, 1878, J. V. Bennett, of Gold Hill, to Mary J. Stephens, of Grass Valley, Cal.

Board of County Commissioners. The board of county commissioners met to-day. All the members were present.

T. K. Hymers was authorized to buy a ticket for a woman to Topeka, Kansas.

The resignation of C. A. Richardson as justice of the peace of Reno township was accepted and J. S. Bowker appointed in his stead. Judge Richardson resigned on account of his going into business in Bodie.

The petition of Theo. Winters and others for the closing of a road leading from Washoe City to the Ophir Grade, known as the slaughter house road, said road to be closed five months in the year, from March 1st was granted.

A Threatened Storm.

The wind early last evening began howling down from the mountains in old-fashioned Washoe style, kept it up all night and has been amusing itself all day by frantically sweeping the streets. Great masses of cold gray clouds have been rolling down the mountain sides and everybody has expected it to snow or rain. Up to the hour of going to press, however, the storm had not arrived, though the wind was whistling to keep its courage up.

The child of W. H. Getchell has been down with the scarlet fever, but is now recovering. There has been a good deal of scarlet fever in the town of late.

J. V. Bennett of Gold Hill, last evening married Miss J. Stephens, of Grass Valley. The ceremony took place at the Arcade hotel. The GAZETTE wishes the young couple a happy married life.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

L. H. Torp Thrown from His Buggy and Killed—His Wife Dangerously Hurt.

A dreadful accident occurred in Virginia city yesterday, resulting in the death of L. H. Torp, a gentleman well known in Reno. He and his wife were driving home from church about one o'clock in the afternoon, behind a spirited team, when the straps of the neckyoke became loosened or snapped asunder and the frightened animals dashed up C street at a frightful pace. At the corner of Sutton avenue the carriage overturned, throwing out both the occupants. Mr. Torp struck with fearful force against an old retort set up as a post at the corner and was picked up insensible and carried to the City Hall where he lingered for an hour and then expired. Mrs. Torp was also seriously injured, suffering a fracture of one leg and one arm. The horses ran madly for some distance and collided with a post, when they were secured. Mr. Torp was the owner or lessee of the Gieger grade road, had been a commissioner of Storey county for several years and was an old settler on the Comstock. He was a man of great intelligence and warm heart and was liked and respected wherever he was known. Virginia suffers a severe loss in his death, for he was a very public spirited citizen, having a hearty interest in the welfare of the city. In his social relations Mr. Torp was genial, and the soul of kindness and good humor, a true friend to his friends and a man who won regard everywhere.

It will be remembered that about a month ago Mr. Torp came very near being killed here in Reno by a runaway accident. He was driving the team which yesterday brought him to his death and was thrown from his vehicle at the bridge, but held on to the lines and was dragged past the Lake House, finally succeeding by determination and pluck in bringing the beasts to a standstill. He was over confident of his mastery over horses, and rode behind animals that hardly anyone else would dare to. After his death the body was taken to the Masonic hall, he being a member of that order, and the funeral will take place from there. He was, we believe, a native of Germany and about fifty years of age.

Mr. Torp was the step-father of R. H. Wright, recently Republican candidate for recorder in this county. When Mr. Wright received a dispatch from Virginia stating that his father and mother had been seriously hurt, he prepared to start at once from Reno by private conveyance. As he was about to leave another telegram was handed him containing the intelligence that his father was dead and his mother's life in danger. The news proved too much for Mr. Wright and he fell back in the carriage in a dead faint.

MRS. TORP'S CONDITION.

A dispatch from Virginia city this afternoon states that Mrs. Torp is resting comfortably, although in a very critical condition. There are hopes entertained of her recovery. She has not yet been informed of her husband's death. This sad duty will be performed by Dr. Webber, and it is feared that the shock will be injurious.

An Ornament to Journalism.

[Type Size, Saturday.]

We have received a copy of the Reno GAZETTE, containing the valedictory of John F. Alexander, the late proprietor and editor, and the salutation of the new proprietors, Messrs. Fulton & Edwards. Mr. Arthur McEwen, who has been connected with the GAZETTE for some time and who was formerly editor of the Eureka Republican, will take charge of the editorial columns. The Sun wishes the GAZETTE long life and prosperity, for it is one of the best papers in the state. Its bright witicism and plucky independence has won for it an enviable notoriety. The courage and sturdy truthfulness together with the marked ability of its editorialists have won for it respect and admiration. Under the charge of Mr. McEwen we expect to see the GAZETTE continue to be an honor and an ornament to Nevada journalism. Mac is one of the brightest men in the profession; his wit bubbles up from a perennial spring of good humor, though at times it is biting and sarcastic. He is a forcible writer and wielder of the pen with vigor, intelligence and independence, fearing no man's displeasure and shielding no man's misdoings. Long may he and the GAZETTE flourish together; a free lance among journalists fighting under an independent banner.

THE CINCHED IN SILVERADO.

How Sierra Nevada Knocked the Boys—Some Striking Examples.

[Special Correspondence of the GAZETTE.] VIRGINIA CITY, Dec. 8. The recent break in stocks takes the first rank in point of suddenness and wide spread disaster. If a great battle had been fought at the foot of Mt. Davidson, and hundreds of men killed, the effect on the business of this city and the Pacific coast would not have been more trying. It is said that 1500 Virginians were sold out and bankrupted, many coming out deeply in debt. Men who had preached and practiced all their lives the policy of total abstinence from stock gambling were overcome by the dazzling prospect in Sierra Nevada and hastened to secure a portion of the rich harvest it promised, only to be involved in the grand crash, which caught not only the small fry, but many of the oldest and keenest operators on the market. Even the banks and such brokers as deal only on the order of customers, found the margins swept away and the shares worth less than their advances, before they could unload them. When the small operators found their stock going up, instead of selling a little to pay their honest debts and secure a small profit, they doubled up at a large figure, and when another rise took place doubled again, until the market consisted of a mass of inverted cones of debt, standing upon needle points of capital. The result is known to most of us by actual experience. Drop, drop, drop. The most heroic struggle for mud could not save the debtors, and with no one interested in saving the total wiping away of values, the panic ran away from those who drove it, and would stop at nothing short of sheer exhaustion. So far as can be judged by unbiased minds the blame attaches to no particular man or set of men. The owners of the mine were no less excited than the public, and all went wild together. When the break occurred the bonanza men were the only ones who could take in the stocks and if they chose not to invest they had the right to let the opportunity pass. When they began to buy, the descent was too well under way to be stopped and they laid in what they chose at constantly receding prices, without any effect on the market. A volume of most.

INTERESTING ADVENTURES.

could be collected from the ups and downs of the past few months. I could not resist the temptation to note a few. Jo Aude, a boy hardly of age, started with $80 and multiplied it by 1000. He could have quit at between $90,000 and $100,000, but he doubled up and now is a magnificent ruin with a debt of $85,000. During the deal he handled over three quarters of a million. A blacksmith engaged in sharpening picks at one of the mines had $1100 to begin with, got up to $50,000 and quits $27,000 in debt. Long Stevens, a miner in Sierra Nevada, started on a shoe string made $80,000 and is now reveling on the shoe string again. There is waiting in the cabin. A waiter in Evans' restaurant for 13 years, got as high as $40,000 and prepared for the senate. He busted and is again the bearer of ham, and eggs-sausage on the side. An officer of the V. & T. R. R. with $100 capital bought 300 shares of Bodie at $1 sold it at $12 and bought 100 Union and 100 Sierra Nevada. He was advised to sell at $200, but debbled up instead, and is now $10,000 in debt. In the day of his prosperity he furnished his home with the taste and elegance becoming his wealth. Though still a young man he feels the change keenly. If he were twenty years older we should expect to see him bow beneath the stroke but at his age and with his ability there is no reason for despondency.

ABOUT BODIE.

Present Condition and Future Prospects of the Camp.

From General O. H. LaGrange who returned from Bodie last night a GAZETTE reporter learns that the town of Bodie has increased one-third in the last three months in buildings of a good character. The merchants have laid in large quantities of provisions and other supplies, so there will be no suffering. The residences are scattered over the hillsides, and are comparatively safe, but the business portion is built of wood on two sides of a long narrow street over a mile in extent. Water is very scarce and if a spark is ever dropped the whole thing goes. The town is scantily supplied by wells and pipes laid to the springs in the neighborhood. For the housing works it is hauled a mile and costs $1 a barrel. Estimates are being made for bringing water from Rough creek, where the old adarastars were placed in early years. The water will be pumped 1800 feet and led six or seven miles to the town. Wood is also scarce. Lumber is worth sixty and seventy dollars per thousand feet. There are thirty steam hoisting works scattered about on the hills; twenty of them have supplies, wood, etc., and will run all winter, so that the district will be well prospecting by spring. Besides Standard and Bodie, which are now paying, and Bulwer, which has an ore shute 200 feet deep and from two to six feet wide, there are four others which are considered sure to pay as soon as mills can be built. The University, Tioga and Summit are looking very well. The mill for the Red Cloud will start soon. In the Dudley mine the shaft strikes feeders of rich ore, all pitching one way, which may lead to a large body. The ore is exceedingly rich, much of it over $2000 a ton. All the mines have the same character of ore. It looks like brown sugar, or coarse, yellow sand. There are great many idlemen in the camp. The road to Carson will be kept open all winter and stages run daily. Time now, 24 hours.

A LUCKY SUPERINTENDENT.

A well-known superintendent who had carried a trifling balance of $125,000 on the wrong side of his banker's books, since the break in the Bonanzas, got in 1000 shares of Sierra Nevada at $16 and is now supposed to be wallowing in wealth, temporarily. The only way to keep good men on the Comstock is to keep them broke and it is the policy of the ring to keep them so, with an occasional rise to keep up the delusion. All branches of business are affected and will rally slowly. The iron trade is prostrated and the foundries will need but a mere fraction of their usual force, unless orders should come in better than for a month past.

A New Poet.

A darkly mysterious and somewhat sanguinary poem appears elsewhere in today's GAZETTE. It will be read with eagerness by all who relish the horrid phantasms of Poe and the despairing cynicism of Byron. The gifted author is new to print, but the exquisite literary finish displayed in the lines indicates a hand familiar with the pen. The new poet who thus springs at a bound into the zenith of celebrity, bearing in one hand his razor and the other the rhythmic socks of Tennyson, Longfellow and Joaquin Miller is none other than Mr. Friedman, better known as the boss barber of Reno. He is even better than as a poet—a veritable terror than as a poet—a veritable terror that is little short of the supernatural. His tidy shop is on Virginia street.

Go into Brookins' two stores on Virginia street and see his display of Christmas knock-knocks. It is as good as a show.

WHO IS SHERIFF?

The Grounds on Which Lamb Contest Walker's Election.

A. K. Lamb, who will contest W. A. Walker's election to the office of sheriff, has had the legal papers prepared and served. To-day a GAZETTE reporter saw a copy of the complaint. The complaint, after the usual formalities, sets forth that the county commissioners, sitting as a board of canvassers, issued a certificate of election to Walker. They allowed Lamb 632 votes, which included 27 votes claimed to have been cast for him in Pyramid precinct, and Walker 639 votes, including 35 claimed to have been cast for him in the same precinct. The contestant holds that the 62 votes of Pyramid were not legal votes and should not have been counted and gives the following reasons, which would show that the free and independent voters of Pyramid had a HIGH OLD TIME on election day:

1st—There were no qualified inspectors of said election in said precinct. On the contrary, the persons assuming to act as inspectors of election were not sworn as required by law, and were not qualified or authorized to act as inspectors of election at said precinct.

2d—There was no board of inspectors at said election in said precinct, and the persons signing the election returns from said precinct did not act or serve as inspectors at said election in said precinct. On the contrary, one of the said persons, to wit: S. D. Wood, neglected and refused to act as inspector of election either in receiving the votes or in counting the same. On the contrary, said person absented himself from the place of voting and neglected and refused to be present during the voting and during the counting of votes and became and was intoxicated and drunk during the holding of said election absent from the said place of voting, engaged in horse racing and other sports.

MORE IRREGULARITIES CHARGED.

For further cause of complaint it is set forth that those acting as inspectors did not open the polls at the time appointed by law. That they permitted interested parties to elector within 100 feet of the polls, even within the room where the election was being held, and within six feet of the ballot box, and permitted persons to gamble and bet money and property upon the result of the election in the same room. It is further alleged that the inspectors absented themselves from the place of voting and suffered votes to be put in the ballot box in their absence, and that one of the clerks of election during the time votes were being polled, staked money on the result of the election and solicited votes for the contestant in the room where the election was being held and elsewhere.

WHISKEY IN THE FIGHT.

Mr. J. Lamb further avers that whiskey and other intoxicating drinks were furnished the electors of Pyramid and that many persons were made drunk and while in that condition were influenced to vote for Walker. The complaint goes on to state that Walker's majority in the county was only 7 votes and shows that if the vote of Pyramid be thrown out one majority remains to himself. Mr. Lamb prays that he be adjudged duly elected. The 27 in it has been set for the hearing of the case.

JOTTINGS.

Mrs. H. N. Haley, of Honey Lake, who lay ill for several days at the Golden Eagle hotel, died on Saturday night. Her body was yesterday taken to Honey Lake.

These was an unusually large congregation at the Episcopal church yesterday.

About the most dismal object to be seen this wintry weather is a blue-nosed tramp riding on the bumpers between two freight cars and, while his teeth chatters, congratulating himself that he hasn't been fired off.

I. Fredrick received a fine new safe from below this morning.

S. N. Davidson is receiving a fine lot of plated ware and flagree work—call and see them as they are selling fast.

The famous "Medal" raisins can be had at Holmes'; call and compare their prices.

Look over the advertising columns of the GAZETTE when your teeth chatter this cold weather and you'll learn where to get warm clothing cheap.

Sinners who go in for gratifying the flesh, say that a drink known as hot Scotch, is much in vogue at present.

State Treasurer Schooling and his wife spent Sunday in Reno.

There is a dispatch at the Western Union Telegraph office for Jasper Pendleton.

J. C. Hagerman to-day received a lot of mammoth eastern codfish and a big stock of tobacco. Go and look at the codfish. They are curiosities.

Talk is Cheap.

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes, hats and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods. If you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. I do not boast when I say that I defy competition in prices in anything in my line. Besides this I have only one price. I have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at my establishment. My stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this State. Everything I have is new. No old, musty and out-of-date goods can be found on my shelves. I receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of my prices and examine my stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they dream into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. I make a profit on everything I sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. One must make a profit to live. I particularly call attention to my full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods form one of my specialties. Remember the place, The White House, No. 19, Commercial Row. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

C. Jeff. Brookins.

General Variety Store, Reno, Nevada—Pianos, organs and all kinds of musical instruments sold on the installment plan at genuine Eastern prices. Brookins has just received an immense stock of Holiday Goods, the finest and largest assortment that was ever brought to Reno. China, tin, and Britannia sets of dishes, vases, toilet, wine and smoking sets, Musiache Cups, Mugs and Flower pots. The finest and lowest priced Albums that have ever been heard of. Games of Authors, Across the Continent, etc., wall pockets and brackets. This stock will be sold very cheap. Bird Eggs and Hooks, Toy Pianos, Jumping Jacks, Magic Lanterns, Jack in Box, Rocking Horses, Wagons, Carts, Wheelbarrows, toy perambulators, bed-room sets, tables, sideboards and bureaus, tumbling harlequins, watches, building and A B C blocks, silver bell and rubber rattles. A magnificent and very large stock of dolls, wax, worsted, and China, Papiermache, French kid with flexible joints, walking and talking dolls. Jeff invites special attention to these dolls, as he is determined to sell them as cheap as they can be bought. On account of Brookins' store being too small to exhibit his wonderful stock, he has leased the Reno Furniture Store, where he invites everybody to call and see his goods, and if they can go through his rooms without buying something to make the hearts of the little ones glad, they can beat me. decitf

A Model Father.

(Carson Appeal.)

A family man of this city, who is somewhat addicted to drink, and passionately fond of a quiet little game of "draw," recently absented himself from his home for two days and nights in succession. His wife was driven nearly distracted by his absence, and when she could no longer stand the suspense sent her son in search of the delinquent husband. After many hours spent in the mission, the boy found his father snugly stowed away in the back room of Magee's saloon, closely hugging a poker game. The son upbraided his paternal progenitor for his unfeeling conduct toward his mother. After patiently listening to the boy's reproach, the old man replied, with tears trickling down his cheeks, "My son I cannot blame you for addressing such strong language to me, your father; I know I am a worthless wretch who is setting you a bad example, but I will try to reform for your and your dear mother's sake. Never take a drink my boy, and never acquire the fearful vice of gambling. Lead an honest, industrious and upright life. Never deceive anyone by word or action, nor utter a falsehood even when your existence at stake; then, my son, you will grow up to be a happier man than is your wretched father. Now, take this half-dollar, run home and tell the old woman you couldn't find me." That boy, under the influence of his father, may yet become a congressman. Who knows?

A Curious Poisoning Case.

(Fresno Expositor, Dec. 4.)

One day last week, J. C. Berry and J. R. Gillum were walking about the premises of the former, when Mr. Gillum, who was carrying a new hatchet in his hand at the time, discovered a rattlesnake and chopped it in twain. He then played with the front end of the snake for a while permitting it to bite at the blade of the hatchet. The parties then returned to Berry's home, where the hatchet was thrown down. Subsequently a brother of J. C. Berry's started to cook dinner, and wishing to cut up some fresh meat in order to cook it, picked up the hatchet and chopped it. At dinner the two Berries, Gillum and a man by the name of Longacre sat down. They all partook of the meat all shortly afterwards began to feel sick. Fortunately they were able to vomit freely and expelled the poisonous meat from their stomachs, but still they suffered severely from the effects of the poison, their flesh swelling, and other symptoms of poisoning showing themselves. They took such remedies as were at hand, and soon recovered.
